Only Known Policy
for Handling China

America got a shock over the week-end when Mrs. Sun Yat-sen, widow of the founder of the Chinese republic, turned up as a vice-chairman of the Communist government.

She sent greetings to Joe Stalin on the anniversary of the Russian revolution, which might be dismissed as a mere gesture to a neighboring power — but her acceptance of an official position under the Chinese Communist regime can neither be dismissed nor explained.

A lot of things certainly have gone sour in China to cause the Sun Yat-sen family, whose revolutionary program was organized and financed by the United States a generation ago, to embrace communism and probable dictatorship by the Russians.

The average American suspects, of course, that the land reform and other programs sought by the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen to overthrow feudalism and do something for the Chinese people have been blocked so long by Mme. Chiang Kai-shek and her kindred that all hope of a middle-of-the-road government has vanished.

This would explain the embracing of communism by China, on the one hand, and the Russians themselves embracing it — nothing could be worse than the Czars (or Manchus).

Obviously Americans don't have any dependable pipeline to bring any information on what the Chinese people are doing; much less, what they are thinking. The only time we are brought up to date is when we are hit in the face with an act of violence like the overthrow of Chiang Kai-shek or the joining of the Communists by Mme. Sun Yat-sen.

There is no evidence in history that Western nations have ever understood the Chinese, and since European diplomats who tried and failed had hundreds of years' more experience than our own, America would do well to scratch off our naive China program and start again with a clean sheet.

Local C of C Cooperating With ECA

Charles Armitage, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, today said his organization is cooperating with the Economic Cooperation Administration in the compilation of a directory of small business firms for distribution overseas.

The directory, to be published by ECA, will list the names and products of small independent firms which desire to enter or continue in export trade under the Marshall Plan. It will be distributed to foreign sales missions to European importers and other buyers, serving them as a reference to available American sources of supply.

To compile the directory, ECA is sending small business firms to register during a 20-day period beginning November 10 and ending November 30. Registration forms are available at the Chamber of Commerce. Listing in the directory will be without charge to the businessman. ECA is directed by Congress to make available to prospective overseas purchasers and suppliers information regarding products and services produced by small American independent firms.

The directory is another step in ECA's five-point program to help small firms greater opportunities to export. It also is a recovery order now being placed in the United States. Mr. Armitage said, "It certainly will supplement the foreign sales promotion program of the small businessman who does not have the capital to engage in an advertising campaign covering all of Western Europe."

The Chamber of Commerce warned that listing in the directory would not automatically result in orders. "It will be the follow-up sales campaign, and the price and quality of his products which are going to determine the amount of business he will get."

Listing in the directory is open only to small businessmen. The application form contains only five questions and is simple to complete. To guide the businessman in determining whether his business is "small," ECA is using as a yardstick the definition contained in the Selective Service Act of 1948, which states:

"A business is small if it does not occupy a dominant position in the production or distribution of a part, if the number of employees does not exceed 500, and if it is independently owned and operated."

So that the small businessman in and around Hope can get the maximum benefit out of the directory, it is suggested that only those companies register which have analyzed their potential success in export trade and have decided to enter the field for the long pull. Inclusion of other firms would defeat the purpose of the directory.

Declares Mine Funds Being Used Illegally

Bridges Orders Lewis to Halt Payments

Concord, N. H., Nov. 7 — (AP) — U. S. Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) declared today that the United Mine Workers welfare fund, has called for an immediate stop to payments from the multi-million dollar fund.

He confirmed today a letter he wrote to John L. Lewis, trustee for the miners, demanding that further payments be stopped because they are illegal.

I am deeply concerned at the rate of expenditures from the fund for the so-called hospital and medical cases which we are still paying," Bridges wrote.

I am alarmed at the possible obligations and liabilities incurred but not yet paid."

Since expiration of the UMW contract last June, payments have been limited to emergency hospital and medical cases. The fund has paid about $12,000,000 in June to about $12,000,000 in month Bridges' office confirmed.

Bridges contends the fund is legally exhausted since money obtained without a work contract cannot be used. Most of the $12-million fund last month was collected on contracts after Lewis' walkout. Bridges contends.

Rift Reported
Washington, Nov. 7 — (AP) — Soft coal industry circles buzzed today with reports of an alleged split between John L. Lewis and Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH) over the spending of miners' welfare funds collected since the last contract expired June 30.

The reports, not confirmed by the union or Bridges' office here, are that Lewis, as a neutral trustee, sided with Ezra Van Horn, the operators' representative, in voting to keep frozen all royalties collected since June 30. A resolution to that effect was adopted before pension and other welfare payments to miners were cut off September 16.

The strike, touched off by the suspension of payments, began September 10 and is still going on. At a trustees' meeting a few weeks ago, attended by Van Horn even though he had submitted his resignation, Lewis was reported to have tried to rescind the resolution.

Bridges, reportedly, stood by his original position that the trustees might be legally liable for funds spent in the absence of a contract which required operators to pay the royalties.

Lewis and Bridges are said to have exchanged sharp words over the senator's stand, but the resolution was retained.

The operators have selected Judge Charles I. Dawson of Louisville, Ky., as successor to Van Horn, effective on November 3.

Nevada School Dist. Suit Dismissed

Texarkana—Federal Judge Harry J. Lemley has sustained a defense motion to dismiss the Nevada school district suit, in sustaining the school district's motion to dismiss the suit.

The federal court also ruled that certain necessary parties to the action had not been filed against the action, protesting consolidation of the Upchurch School District with the Prescott School District, did not bring in as defendants directors of any specific school districts.

The suit, which is similar to several others now pending, was brought by members of the Upchurch Negro School District. The plaintiffs sought a court injunction to prevent consolidation, which was authorized under Initiated Act No. 1 of 1949.

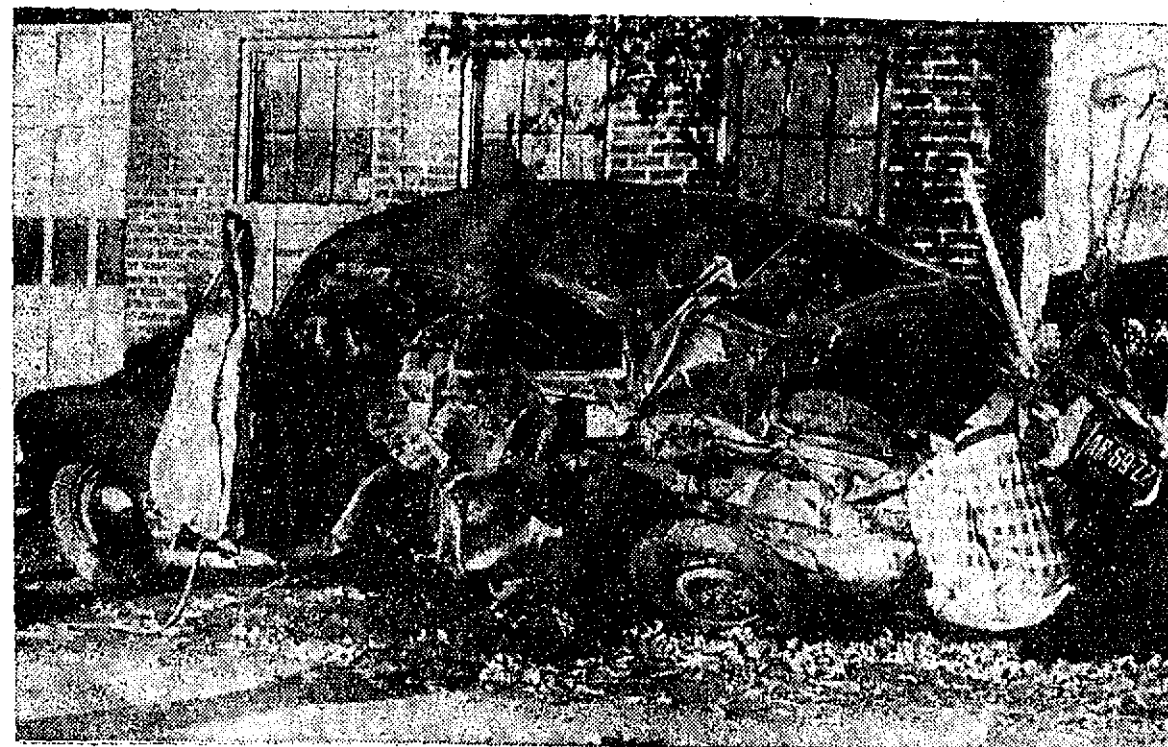

The plaintiffs had also requested that the court enter a declaratory judgment finding that the consolidation, custom and usage, actions of the defendants in allegedly maintaining Negro schools inferior to those for white children, the defendants were violating the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution.

The plaintiffs were given 30 days to amend their complaint, under terms of the dismissal order on the Texarkana District, Federal court.

Mother Slashes Throats of Four Children

Sterling, Ill., Nov. 7 — (UP) — An attractive 35-year-old mother was committed to a state mental hospital today, only a few hours after she admitted that "voices in my head" drove her to slash the throats of her four young children.

The children were expected to recover. Whiteside County Judge Walter J. Stevens listened to the replies of Mrs. James Moughan to questions by three physicians, then adjudged her insane and ordered her confined.

His decision was handed down five hours after the attack on the four youngsters. It was the quickest disposition of a case in the history of this area.

Dressed in a light blouse and blood-spattered slacks, Mrs. Moughan replied distinctly and coherently to the doctors' questions.

"I heard voices in my head," she said. "They told me to kill."

When told that they were but that their condition was serious, she said, "It will be terrible if they have scars to carry through life."

Then turning to the judge, she asked, "If they were dead, they would be in heaven by now, wouldn't they?"

Moughan said his wife had been "driven mad" by the birth of their youngest child, Mary, in September.

He said he was working in the garage at the rear of their home when "something" told him to go into the house.

He found his wife standing in the kitchen with a knife in her hands. Three of the children lay on the floor, their throats gashed. Another stood in a corner, whimpering with terror as blood dripped down his chest.

Carrots may be left in the ground almost until the time of the first freeze without damage.

Millions of Americans Want to Be Successful Authors But Only 5000 Really Are

By HAL BOYLE
New York — (AP) — Millions of Americans want to be successful authors. But only 5,000 really are.

What defeats the rest? Robert Penn Warren, Pulitzer prize-winning novelist, says this is one of the chief reasons:

"Lack of nerve or hard work. You have to be willing to take a beating."

Warren is an expert at taking the beating of popular indifference to his work. For 20 years this Kentucky-born poet, editor and university professor has been hailed by critics as one of the nation's finest literary craftsmen.

But over a 17-year period he wrote a biography, three books of poetry, and three novels before the public woke up to his merit. He hit the jackpot with the third novel, "All the King's Men."

This study of a southern political dictator won him the Pulitzer prize. Since 1946 it has sold more than 100,000 copies and has just been made into a movie by Columbia pictures.

"Some people say I patterned my study of a southern political dictator upon the Pulitzer prize. Since 1946 it has sold more than 100,000 copies and has just been made into a movie by Columbia pictures."

Warren, a lanky, red-haired man of 44, "But it could just as well be Bibbo, Mussolini, Hitler — or a thousand other dictators."

He is a slow writer and pecked out "All the King's Men" over a ten-year period.

"I know how it feels to be a frustrated writer — at least six days a week," he said. "I write with a typewriter. Can't read it if I don't."

"Poetry? Well, I do scribble a little of that by hand — then get it on the typewriter fast so I can look at it. But poetry is really sound. You compose it out loud as you pace the floor mumbling."

"Writing poetry is more pleasant than prose. You can be on your back and mumble longer before you have to get up and go to the typewriter."

Warren has never made as

Hijackers Get $325 From Service Station

Paragould, Nov. 7 — (AP) — A service manager was robbed of $325 by two armed hijackers here late last night.

Fred Richmond said he was preparing to close the station, about two miles east of town, when the robbery occurred. He told this story to Arkansas state troopers:

Two men drove into the station and ordered 50 cents worth of gasoline. They entered the office, and pulled out a $5 to pay the bill. When Richmond opened his wallet to make change the men brandished pistols, grabbed the wallet and drove off.

U. S. Troops to Stay in Japan

Washington, Nov. 7 — (AP) — The United States intends to keep troops in Japan for many years after the end of the allied occupation.

Diplomatic authorities said that decision has been reached by officials with Britain and other nations to draft a Japanese peace treaty, faced this tough problem:

How can Japan be given full political independence, while still keeping some protection against a growing communist menace in Asia?

With their decision on this and other tough issues, state department planners have reached an advanced stage in their efforts to whip into shape a treaty of peace with the former enemy nation.

The next step must be consultation with Britain and other nations. U. S. planning has progressed far enough so that Secretary of State Acheson will be able to assure British Foreign Minister Bevin in Paris this week of U. S. readiness to start such talks in the near future.

Cabinet members and former cabinet members joined the President in the campaign for Lehman. He also had the active support of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D-N.Y.).

The New York results — expected to indicate what the state's trend may be in 1950 when the six-year senatorial term and the governorship will be at stake — may be influenced greatly by what happens in the New York City mayor's election.

Dense Smoke Fog Stalls Vehicles in New Orleans

New Orleans, Nov. 7 — (AP) — A thick, smoke-filled fog squatted over suburban areas of New Orleans early today, blotting out visibility and terrifying many residents.

State police estimated 200 to 250 automobiles stalled on highways leading into the northern section of the city. Planes were grounded because passengers couldn't get to the airport. A series of minor accidents occurred before traffic finally came to a complete halt.

The gray-out apparently resulted from dense fog mixed with weed smoke.

The blackout rendered the area almost defenseless. Nine pieces of fire equipment stranded during an attempt to answer an alarm from the Musser-Gordon hospital. The alarm was false.

Police and newspapers were swamped with calls from frightened residents. Some said they couldn't see objects eight feet in front of them. Others complained of difficulty in breathing.

When the curtain finally lifted about 6 a. m., after six hours of darkness, cars were in ditches or sitting where abandoned by drivers.

N. Y. Senate Race Takes Spotlight

By The Associated Press
In a preview of the 1950 struggle for control of congress, voters scattered across the nation picked one senator, two house members, two governors and many local officials tomorrow.

A special senate race in New York overshadows all others in interest.

In that contest and in certain others, labor as well as the major political parties will have something at stake.

The AFL and CIO have put their chips down together on Democratic former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman in the New York election to round out the term — expiring in January, 1951 — of Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.), who resigned.

Republican Senator John Foster Dulles, an appointee of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, has made President Truman's fair deal program an issue by his attacks on it. He has called for a modified version of the Taft-Hartley act.

The President spoke out against Dulles Saturday night in a radio broadcast urging the election of Lehman.

Across the river in New Jersey, labor has split apart in the hotly contested race for governor. The AFL has endorsed Democratic State Senator Elmer H. Wene, who is trying to unseat Republican Gov. Alfred E. DuSault.

The CIO, on the other hand, has issued a report criticizing Wene severely, linking him with the old Frank Hague organization of Jersey City. However, the CIO hasn't backed DuSault.

Labor itself has split in the mayor's race in Detroit, one of the local elections that will be watched closely for possible national trends.

There the AFL is backing Albert E. Cobb, Republican city treasurer, who led all of the candidates in the September primary. The CIO is supporting George Edwards, who has Democratic ties.

The issue will be decided on a non-partisan ballot.

In the New York senatorial battle, Dulles appears to have turned into a toss-up contest a race which politicians a month ago were giving to Lehman by a wide margin.

Dewey campaigned vigorously for Dulles, as did Senator Ives (R-N.Y.). Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), recuperating in Michigan from a lung operation, sent along a letter urging the election of his old friend.

Cabinet members and former cabinet members joined the President in the campaign for Lehman. He also had the active support of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D-N.Y.).

The New York results — expected to indicate what the state's trend may be in 1950 when the six-year senatorial term and the governorship will be at stake — may be influenced greatly by what happens in the New York City mayor's election.

Red Marshall to Control Polish Defense

London, Nov. 7 — (UP) — Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky of Russia has been appointed defense minister of Poland, the Polish embassy here announced today.

The new task in strategy behind the iron curtain touched off startled reaction. The British foreign office denounced it as new evidence that Moscow was in complete control of Poland.

"The appointment may be regarded as the latest demonstration of the total subservience of the communist regime in Poland to the Soviet Union," a foreign office spokesman said.

Other commentators voiced surprise at the spectacle of a national army of one country, and especially Russia, being named head of the army of another state, particularly the Soviet Union.

The Polish announcement of Rokossovsky's new post followed word from the Moscow radio that Russia had agreed to lend the ranking military leader of the Second World War to Poland.

broadcast said Rokossovsky, whose westward sweep in the latter phase of the war was checked for some weeks at the suburbs of Warsaw while Polish patriots inside the city were crushed by the Nazis, was loaned to Poland at the request of President Boleslaw Beirut, a Moscow-trained communist.

The British foreign office spokesman said in commenting on the situation.

It may be recalled that Rokossovsky was in command on the Warsaw front in the summer of 1944 at the time of the heroic uprising of the Polish underground. At that time the British and Americans were refused permission by Russian authorities to use Soviet bases for dropping supplies to the Warsaw garrison in their struggle against the fascist occupation forces.

Drug Store Is Robbed of $2500 at Caraway

Jonesboro, Nov. 7 (AP) — Drug store burglars made their second big haul in Northeast Arkansas within two weeks last night, making off with $2,500 worth of jewelry at Caraway, 20 miles south-east of here.

Wayne Latta, owner of a Caraway drug store, said the burglars cleaned out his stock of watches, fountain pens, bracelets, billfolds and cigarette lighters. They also took three table model radios and $5.50 in cash.

Rita and Aly in Switzerland for Child's Birth

Lausanne, Switzerland, Nov. 7 — (AP) — Rita Hayworth, the movie star who became a princess by marrying Aly Khan, has come to Lausanne for the birth of her baby expected in the next few weeks.

Rita and Aly arrived from Paris Sunday and went into seclusion in a hotel suite. The hotel management referred all queries to a Lausanne information service which announced the couple would stay in the city until the birth of their child.

Neither could be approached directly for information but Prince Aly confirmed last August that the onetime Hollywood queen was an expectant mother. Rita and Aly were married May 27 on the French Riviera after a courtship that made headlines around the world.

Miss Hayworth has visited Lausanne several times in recent months to consult physicians at the Mont Chail clinic.

The information service said the couple would stay in Lausanne until the birth of the baby and then go to Gstaad, a fashionable Swiss resort. The family is expected to move about Dec. 15 to a Gstaad Chalet rented by Aly.

Jacques Fath, the Paris designer who made Rita's wedding gown, has prepared the actress' maternity wardrobe.

Aly has said the child would be reared as a Moslem. He has two sons by a previous marriage. Miss Hayworth has a daughter from her former marriage to Orson Welles, the screen and radio actor and producer.

Mrs. John P. Cox of Hope was the Thursday guest of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Davis and attended the services for Mr. Sam T. White.

Mrs. Charles Willis returned to her home in Grand Prairie, Texas, Thursday after a visit with her sister, Mrs. M. L. Willis, who is in the hospital.

Mrs. F. E. Murrah is the guest of her daughter, Miss Caroline Ella Murrah in Dallas.

DOROTHY DIX

Bad Taste

Dear Miss Dix: We are two young couples still in college who have been going together for two years. We are very much in love and intend getting married as soon as our education is completed. Our trouble is that their parents of both girls object and frown on all evidence of affection between us. Even though they realize that we intend to get married, there are still a few things that they think we should be suppressed before marriage, or do you feel, as we do, that it only strengthens our love and holds us together more permanently?

TWO PERPLEXED COUPLES

Answer: A cynic said once that there were certain things that were worse than immoral. They were bad taste.

Nothing so utterly marks a boy and girl as having no social background and no knowledge of the world as to make a display of their emotions for every grinning Tom, Dick, and Harry. I never see a girl with her head pillowed on a young man's shoulder in the movies, or a young couple hugging and kissing in a car, that I do not think that if they only knew what figures of fun they look they would rather die than put themselves in such a ridiculous attitude.

Should Be Private

There is something sacred about the love between a man and a woman, and the expression of it should be as private as possible. To make a public display of it is to rob it of its finest thrill.

As to a continual display of affection proving love, that is also a mistake. You can get as much fed up on petting as you can on a steady diet of chocolate creams. And don't make the mistake of thinking that because a married couple do not advertise their affection for each other, they have ceased to love each other. Their love has become so much a part of their lives that they take it for granted, and under their quiet attitude toward each other is a devotion that is as much stronger than your boy and girl love as the current of a deep babbling brook.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We three sisters are almost distracted because our father, now 67 years old, is sitting at home, waiting for a fine woman, 52 years old. Has a good home, so has father, and we three girls make our living, but we want our dad to stay with us. He is active, fills a position of duty, and we think he is too old to marry. He has been so good to us. Sacrificed everything to give us an education. We are now from 21 to 30 years old. Surely he is wrong and would be happier with us. Let that old maid stay where she is.

THREE SISTERS

Answer: Don't forbid the banns. Believe me, children have even less right to interfere in their parents' marriages than parents have in their children's. You don't want to do that. You want to see your father secure a companion for himself, but I wonder how many dates you turn down because you have a standing date with your father?

It is pretty lonesome for father, sitting at home, waiting for a fine woman, 52 years old. Has a good home, so has father, and we three girls make our living, but we want our dad to stay with us. # Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler Copyright, 1949 By King Features Syndicate.

New York, Nov. 4.—Paul Draper, the elfin dancer of the stylish and expensive night clubs, who sued Mrs. John T. McCullough for $100,000 for citing from official records of congress, is the son of Muriel Draper, who is the subject of an interesting biography of nine pages in a recent publication of the house committee on un-American activities. This pamphlet is called "Report On the Congress of American Women." I recommend it to patrons of night clubs who may be invited to pay money to see Paul Draper cut the pigeon wing, toss his pretty hair and stamp a dainty foot and to neighborhood cultural groups which import such talent for concerts on winter nights.

As I have reported, Mrs. McCullough, a young American wife and mother of normal interests and small means, brought down calamity by just venturing to say that, as a member of a local culture-bund, of Greenwich, Conn., called the community concerts association, she objected to the payment of any of her money to her Draper or his partner, Larry Adler, who plays the mouth-organ. Their political antics and associations have attracted the official notice of that congressional body which is charged with the duty of exposing organized hostility against the United States.

Adler also sued for $100,000 and, as I have previously related, the pair of them were able, under a Connecticut law, to attach the McCulloughs' home and their modest bank account and put them to legal expenses which would have been absolutely overwhelming but for the generosity of patriotic Americans all over who have been sending in contributions. In Connecticut, one accused of being a communist or fellow-traveler or any merely malicious plaintiff has the power to tie up a loyal American's money and property with an attachment on the merest pretext just by filing suit. He doesn't have to get judgment first, disproving the charge as he would in most other states. In Connecticut there are a great many communists and fellow-travelers filtered in from New York.

Although one of Draper's lawyers recently put it out that he was not answerable for his mother's politics, he was under her influence much of his life and his own political associations and preferences have been noteworthy.

Muriel Draper is the new president of an organization called the Congress of American Women. The report of the committee on un-American activities states that this is an affiliate of the Women's International Democratic Federation.

"The purpose of these organizations is . . . to serve as a spearhead of Soviet political warfare and demoralize the United States and Democratic nations generally in order to render them helpless in the face of the communist drive for world conquest," this report of the committee begins.

Continuing, it says that the committee's purpose here is to deter American women from innocently lending themselves to the purposes of Mrs. Draper's organization.

"Muriel Draper," the biography says, "is the daughter of the distinguished Sander family of Haverhill, Mass., who married into the even more socially and artistically prominent Draper family of New York. Her husband, Paul Draper, was a singer well known throughout Europe, and I would interrupt at this point to say that he was the original hero, or butt, of that concentrated criticism which ran: 'His singing is better than it sounds.' But he had money and affections and he got by. It was better than working."

"Before their divorce, Muriel and Paul lived and entertained brilliantly in London. She sent her son, Paul, Jr., who is also now a well-known fellow-traveler of the communists, to expensive and fashionable schools in this country. While she damns American capitalism and all its works she has been an ardent protagonist of the Soviet union for nearly two decades. The communists have succeeded in exploiting for their own shrewdly calculated, conspiratorial purposes her standing in exclusive social circles. It is difficult to understand her furious outbursts against her own country and her admiration for the Soviet union with all its poverty, degradation and tyranny. "She is well known in artistic circles as a pianist, a lecturer of sorts, a dabber in poetry and drama. One of her books, explained that the defection of Muriel Draper's husband had embittered her, that 'Paul's destiny. After that she lived for the satisfaction of the Communist Party in London. London, Muriel had a transfiguration there. She triumphed in London, while the money lasted.'"

"Then, when Muriel Draper had nearly achieved the pinnacle of her consuming desire for importance, fame, even adulation, her husband entered the London residence, and testifies to confess that he had lost their last cent on a horse race. From that time her faith in capitalism suffered a heavy decline."

A bored and disgruntled woman consumed by the relative barrenness of life in the United States, scorn of her position, her impotence, and, significantly, her audience she turned elsewhere for an outlet to the pro-Soviet artistic circles in New York."

She was against the "imperialist war of Britain and France until Russia was attacked. Then she sponsored the Artists' Front to Win the War, "another communist decoy." In December, 1948, she was chief United States delegate to the Women's International Democratic Federation in Budapest and received a "five minute ovation at the conclusion of her fiery blast against the United States."

The record presented by the committee on un-American activities is one of the most shocking in the entire shelf of books which has lengthened year by year notwithstanding the opposition of Eleanor Roosevelt and other politicians opposing under cover.

Draper recently has been whining that the wide publication of the allegations by Mrs. McCullough has made it difficult to support his wife and children. The inference seems to be that promoters and customers have begun to shun him. It would seem to follow also that his mother will experience some denial, for the committee's report quotes one authority to the effect that Paul has been supporting out of his earnings for his exquisite flouncing.

However, if that be true, they may not have suffered more than Mr. and Mrs. John T. McCullough, or Paragonia Rd., Greenwich, Conn., and their twelve-year-old boy, whose tuition in school this year is put in abeyance in the back of the book because Paul Draper brought down the disaster of a lawsuit which already has cost them $9,000. If they go to trial, even though they should win, it will cost them about $35,000—all of it a lien on their equity in their home and on Mr. McCullough's future earnings.

Overtures have been made, but Mrs. McCullough has suffered so much for merely commenting on the political views of Draper and Adler that she refuses to compromise. She is determined to rub their noses in it.

McMurray College Back Is Top U. S. Scorer

New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Little McMurray college of Abilene, Tex., today still pointed to Halback Brad Rowland as the top individual scorer of college football.

Rowland continues to widen the gap over his closest pursuer, Bill Young of unbeaten, Hillsdale, Mich. In eight games, Rowland has clicked for 18 touchdowns and 108 points. Young's record for seven games shows 12 touchdowns and 16 conversions for 88 points.

Henderson, Tech to Decide Title

By The Associated Press

Two AIC rivals, Arkansas Tech and Henderson, have a tough battle to fight on Armistice day.

The outcome of their meeting at Rustville Friday night will determine which club will wear the 1949 crown.

Tech and Henderson have perfect conference records, each having bumped some of the league's toughest competitors. Only Tech has tasted defeat this season at that was by an out-of-loop foe.

The Reddies of Henderson knocked off its toughest opponent so far this season by powering to a 28-6 victory over highly regarded Arkansas State Friday night.

Tech will be playing before its homecoming crowd when it enters Henderson, if that is any help.

In other conference scraps Saturday night Arkansas A. & M. will be at Ouachita, Arkansas, college, while Henderson will play at the Ozarks will entertain Magnolia A. & M. Memphis State will go to Arkansas State at Jonesboro in a non-league game.

Bowl Picture Beginning to Shape Up

New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—With just two big weeks to go in this wild "winter favorite" football season, Oklahoma, California and Rice today stacked up as the only red-hot bowl candidates in the land.

It's a good bet that the unbeaten Sooners and Golden Bears will do repeat performances — third-ranked Oklahoma in the Sugar bowl and fourth-rated California in the Rose bowl.

Rice's Owls, No. 8 nationally, have emerged as the outstanding team of the Southwest and should win up as host in the Cotton bowl at Dallas.

Where sponsors will proceed from there in filling the four major post-season bowls and the dozen other minor attractions is an engaging mystery.

They probably will have to do business with teams that have been kicked around a bit — maybe lost two or three games.

Of last week's top ten teams in the Associated Press poll, five — Notre Dame (1) Army (2), Michigan (3), Cornell (7) and Michigan State (10) — are either disinterested or are bound by conference edict from participating in the Jan. 1 extravaganzas.

The other two — sixth-ranked Baylor and ninth-rated Southern Methodist — are beginning to lose some of their bowl glimmer.

The Western conference will send one of its representatives to Pasadena but it can't be Michigan, which went last year, or Michigan State, which is a new league member but not yet a title eligible.

This prize probably will be decided Saturday at Columbus, Ohio, where Ohio State clashes with Illinois. Ohio's Buckeyes are tied with Michigan for the loop lead with three victories and one defeat. Illinois has won three, lost one and tied one.

Notre Dame and Army shun the post-season games while Cornell, as a member of the prim Ivy league, can't even flirt with the idea.

Bowl sponsors may have to dip down into the growing list of "dark horses" for candidates. Virginia, Wyoming, Boston university and College of the Pacific, all unbeaten and untied, head this group.

Virginia, jaded by Pennsylvania, 20-14, Saturday in a major upset, Wyoming ran itself out of breath locking Colorado State, 10-0, for victory No. 8. Boston U. made Temple its sixth victim, 28-7, while College of the Pacific, with seven straight triumphs, took a holiday.

Only 26 College Teams Remain Unbeaten

New York, Nov. — (AP)—Twenty-six college grid teams remained today on the waning list of unbeaten and untied.

Nine squads failed to keep their heads above water the past weekend. The chief casualty was Baylor, which had placed sixth in the Associated Press' weekly nationwide poll. After winning six straight, the Bears bowed to Texas, 20-0.

Xavier (Ohio) had its streak snapped at seven, succumbing to Kentucky, 27-7. Lawrence (Wis.) and another seven-game winner, wowed to McAlester, 14-0.

In addition to Baylor, three others with 6 and 0 records were eliminated. Wheaton college (Ill.) was dumped by Valparaiso, 21-13. Union (N. Y.) was halted by a tie by Middlebury, 14-14, and W. Va. state was deadlocked by Virginia State, 27-27.

A pair of teams boasting five victories in as many games also fell. Baldwin Wallace (Ohio) bowed to Youngstown, 20-14, and Florida State U. was beaten by Livingston, 13-6.

Fordham's surprising Rams, after running up four consecutive triumphs, could not cope with mighty Army and were blanked, 35-0.

The Wayne (Neb.) Teachers completed their season with an unbeaten chain of nine victories, most scored by any team still sporting a perfect record.

Eagles Soundly Trounce Rams by 38-14 Score

New York, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Cleveland Browns, usually resting up for the playoffs at this time of the year, once again are undisciplined leaders of the All-America football conference today but the shooting isn't over.

Cleveland, champion every year since the league was organized in 1946, broke its stealmate with the New York Yankees for the top rung yesterday by trouncing the Chicago Hornets, 39-2, while the Yanks were upset, 17-14, by the Buffalo Bills.

Meanwhile the Philadelphia Eagles and the Los Angeles Rams staged an expected "preview" of the National league championship in the Quaker city.

The Eagles Eastern division pace-setters, cuffed the Rams, Western division leaders, 38-14. Each sports an identical 6-1 record and each has five games remaining.

The New York Giants were stunned by their tenants, the New York Bulldogs, 31-24. Pittsburgh also bowed, 27-14, to the fourth place Washington Redskins. The Chicago Bears stopped Green Bay, 14-3. In the other National league game the Chicago Cardinals humiliated the Detroit Lions, 42-19.

San Francisco's 49ers kept their lead in the ring in the A.C. fight with a 28-10 triumph over the Baltimore Colts. The 49ers trail the Browns by one game, having dropped two more than Cleveland.

Tigers Take El Dorado by 12-6 Score

Saturday night the Yerger Tigers broke a half-time deadlock to lick the Washington High Hornets of El Dorado 12 to 6 on J. B. Modest's pass interception and run-back of 75 yards late in the third period.

Richard Davis scored the first Yerger tally on a 15-yard off tackle sprint. El Dorado tied it up on a 30-yard run shortly before the half.

Saturday afternoon the Tigers play a homecoming contest against Mustang High of Hixson, Ark. Hammons Stadium. The kickoff is set for 2:30 and will be preceded by a parade.
